Assisting Special Needs Populations

Providing Homes for Veterans
Assistance for Homeless Veterans

• According to recent statistics, over 55,000 veterans are homeless on any given night and twice as many experience homelessness during a year.

• Right now, the number of homeless Vietnam-era veterans is greater than the number of service persons who died during that war.

• Veterans returning from Iraq and Afghanistan are making up an increasingly large number of the homeless veterans population. Female veterans comprise a significant number of the total.

Volunteers of America is committed to ending homelessness for those on the street and preventing others from becoming homeless by providing a wide array of well-designed managed services and housing to meet the specific needs of homeless veterans.
Veterans’ Housing Challenges

• Nearly 4 million veteran households pay more than 30% of income for housing.

• More than 1.5 million of these households pay more than 50% of income for housing (severe cost burden).

• Nearly 1 million veterans who own homes are severely cost burdened, despite having access to VA loans and other assistance.

• Veterans with severe housing cost burden are more likely to have a disability than other veterans.

• Among veterans, women are more likely to experience severe cost burden than men.

Clinical Considerations for Use of VASH Vouchers

- As a rule, a continuum of different housing solutions supported by both project- and client-based (tenant based) vouchers is needed to empower different sub-populations.

- Client-based vouchers are clinically contraindicated in certain subpopulations as they can promote dependence rather than reintegration and recovery.

- Client-based vouchers can make it difficult to deliver adequate clinical support services when used for scattered site housing of certain subpopulations.

- Project based vouchers can be used for congregate/collaborative living environments that are key to clinical progress for certain subpopulations.
A Model of Wellbeing in the Human Services Context

Above: A model of wellbeing in the human services context that is defined by dimensions of experience (in green) and fueled by access to community resources (icons, boxes). Resources are shown filtering through a compass to emphasize the fact that their access generally requires navigation of community systems. Please note that the resource categories depicted account for some of the most common community “welfare” offerings.

Hope Manor – Chicago, Illinois

Volunteers of America®
Hope Manor Features

- Hope Manor Apartments includes supportive housing for up to 50 homeless Veterans in need of immediate and intensive services at the point of referral; and affordable housing for up to 30 Veterans requiring less intensive but longer-term housing and support. The project includes 30 studio apartments; 10 two-bedroom suites and 10 three-bedroom suites housing 80 individual veterans. The project also includes private, enclosed green space for residents and laundry facilities on every floor.

- Hope Manor Apartments goal is to help Veterans change and improve their lives over the long-term by promoting self-sufficiency, building new skills, creating strong support networks and integrating Veterans more positively into community life. The first floor includes access to a wide range of supportive services including: employment readiness classes, job training and coaching, computer training, a business resource center, a health and wellness clinic, peer support groups, recovery resources, individual counseling and case management. Residents also enjoy a large, comfortable multi-purpose room to encourage a sense of fellowship among the residents and promote a highly supportive, peer-driven culture which has proven to be extremely important and effective in programs serving Veterans.

Navy Village
San Pedro area of Los Angeles, CA
Navy Village

- 74 units of housing for homeless female veterans and their families, supported in a safe, secure environment. One additional duplex being converted into manager’s unit and community and services center.
- Service provided by Volunteers of America of Greater Los Angeles, similar in nature to the previous two projects.
- Property secured at no cost through receipt of Department of Defense Base Closure and Realignment Act land from neighboring naval base.
- Duplexes were constructed in the early 1990’s by Dept of Defense, but never occupied.
- Constructed to federal codes rather than City of Los Angeles code.
- Water, sewer and electrical previously supplied by the naval base which had to be disconnected. Connection to City of Los Angeles water and sewer has proven to be very expensive due to site location.
