AASCU member presidents and AASCU President Mildred García (second from the right) pose with Pablo Domenichini (third from right), secretary of higher education policy for Argentina’s National Ministry of Education, Culture, Science and Technology, at the Ministry of Education in Buenos Aires.

President Tomás Morales and spouse Evy Morales (left) participate in a dialogue with senior administrative representatives from universities in Mendoza at a bilateral meeting hosted by Universidad Nacional de Cuyo.

Heather Ward (left), associate dean of study abroad and international exchanges at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, moderates a panel of AASCU member presidents addressing over 80 Argentinian university presidents (rectors) during the U.S. Study Abroad/Student Mobility Seminar hosted by the U.S. Embassy in Argentina.

AASCU presidents meet with Rector (President) Luis Negretti at the Universidad Nacional de Villa María in Córdoba, a winner of the 100,000 Strong in the Americas Innovation Fund.

Heather Ward (left), associate dean of study abroad and international exchanges at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, moderates a panel of AASCU member presidents addressing over 80 Argentinian university presidents (rectors) during the U.S. Study Abroad/Student Mobility Seminar hosted by the U.S. Embassy in Argentina.

PHOTO HIGHLIGHTS
2019 Argentina Mission • March 7-18

Heather Ward (left), associate dean of study abroad and international exchanges at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, moderates a panel of AASCU member presidents addressing over 80 Argentinian university presidents (rectors) during the U.S. Study Abroad/Student Mobility Seminar hosted by the U.S. Embassy in Argentina.